7th International Congress on Cardiac Problems in Pregnancy (CPP 2022)

19-22 October, 2022
Porto, Portugal

Welcome Letter

Dear Colleagues

We would like to enthusiastically invite you to attend “The 7th International Congress on Cardiac Problems in Pregnancy (CPP) 2022” which will take place in Porto, Portugal on October 19-22, 2022. The goal of the congress is to advance the knowledge and expertise of health care professionals around the globe by exchange of information, development of collaborative research and adopt and update recent guidelines for the management of cardiovascular (CV) diseases during pregnancy and the post-partum period.

CPP 2022 builds upon the previous four successful meetings in Valencia, Spain, Berlin, Germany, Venice, Italy, Las Vegas, United States and Bologna, Italy, which covered a wide range of topics, related to maternal and fetal cardiac conditions associated to pregnancy and were attended by more than 400 participants including many of the leaders in the field. The congress will include a large number of plenary sessions with state-of-the-art reviews and will incorporate results of research both basic and clinical as well as clinical observations with a focus on practical management recommendations. In addition, the Congress will include updates of on-going registries, developing guidelines, case studies, clinical debates, and panel discussions.

The program was designed to provide a high level and clinically relevant update on the diagnosis, prognosis, and management of women with a broad spectrum of pregnancy-related CV problems with the goal of improving the care of these patients.

Because the management of heart disease in pregnancy requires a multidisciplinary approach, the intended audience will include cardiologists, obstetricians, maternal-fetal medicine specialists, family medicine specialists, haematologists, paediatricians, paediatric cardiologists, geneticists, cardiac surgeons, Obstetrical and cardiac anaesthesiologists, nurses, clinical pharmacists and other health professionals with special interest in managing pregnant women with heart disease.

We look forward to the pleasure of greeting you in what promises to be another exciting congress with a high scientific standard.

We hope to see all of you in Porto for the CPP 2022.

Sincerely Yours,

Professor Uri Elkayam, Congress Chairman
Professor Avraham Shotan, Congress Co-Chairman
